Cairn Capital announces the appointment of Chris Cottrell as senior investment analyst for private structured credit

21 September 2018, London Cairn Capital is pleased to announce the appointment of Chris Cottrell as a senior investment analyst. Chris will focus on speciality finance and risk transfer and report to Brandon Kufrin.

Prior to joining Cairn Capital, Chris was a vice president at Direct Lending Investments, LLC, an alternative asset manager based in California, responsible for underwriting, structuring and monitoring direct private debt investments, with a focus on the speciality finance sector. Previously, he was an associate at PIMCO in California responsible for monitoring and evaluating a range of public and private market fixed income strategies. Chris received a M.B.A. from Stanford University and an A.B. in Economics from Princeton University.

Chris Cottrell said “I am very excited to be joining Cairn Capital. The private structured credit market continues to offer attractive opportunities to capture superior risk-adjusted returns in thoughtfully structured, rigorously underwritten and properly managed investments. I look forward to contributing to Cairn Capital’s continued success in this area.”

Brandon Kufrin, Portfolio Manager, said “We are delighted that Chris has joined Cairn Capital to strengthen our investment team as we continue to grow our private structured credit business.”

Asif Godall, Co-CIO, said “Chris’s hire demonstrates our commitment to broadening our investment capability to meet client demand for differentiated assets. Chris also brings a wealth of knowledge from the US private capital market that we intend to capitalise on in the European private market.”
